The members of the US police force who have most contact with the public are uniformed officers, who patrol in cars and are the first to arrive when a crime is reported. More serious crimes are investigated by detectives, who usually wear plain clothes instead of a uniform. In spite of the fact that police officers in the US wear guns, they are seen by many Americans as being honest, helpful people who work hard at a dangerous job. This is the image that has been shown in popular television programmes such as Columbo and Hill Street Blues. But in recent years it has become clear that many police officers are prejudiced against African Americans and Hispanics and that in some police forces, such as that in Los Angeles, prejudice and even violence by the police have been common.

Anthropologists don't know exactly when our ancestors lived, and there are different theories, or ideas that have no clear conclusion, about our ancestors. Anthropology is the study of _____. Anthropologists think that Earth formed five billion years ago and that life started about three billion years ago. Anthropologists say that the first animals with a spine lived 500 million years ago. We know that apes lived 33 million years ago. Apes are gorillas, chimpanzees, and other large monkeys. These apes lived in trees in Africa, had thirty-two teeth, and walked on four legs. Our ancestors also lived in Africa and had thirty-two teeth, but they were different : they walked on two legs. One theory is that our first ancestors lived three to four million years ago in Africa.
