A well known speaker started off his seminar by holding up a $20 bill. In the room of 200, he asked, "Who would like this $20 bill?" Hands started going up. He said, "I am going to give this $20 to one of you but first, let me do this." He proceeded to crumple the dollar bill up. He then asked, "Who still wants it?" Still the hands were up in the air. "My friends, no matter what I did to the money, you still wanted it because it did not decrease in value. It was still worth $20. Many times in our lives, we are dropped, crumpled, and ground into the dirt by the decisions we make and the circumstances that come our way. We feel as though we are worthless. Dear Sales Associates,

The most recent edition of The Brooktown Weekly ran our advertisement with a misprint. It listed the end of our half-price sale as December 11 instead of December 1. While a correction will appear in the paper's next issue, it is to be expected that not all of our customers will be aware of the error. Therefore, if shoppers ask between December 2 and 11 about the sale, first apologize for the inconvenience and then offer them a coupon for 10% off any item they wish to purchase, either in the store or online.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Weather plays a big part in determining how far and how fast a forest fire will spread. In periods of drought, more forest fires occur because the grass and plants are dry. The wind also contributes to the spread of a forest fire. The outdoor temperature and amount of humidity in the air also play a part in controlling a forest fire. Fuel, oxygen and a heat source must be present for a fire to burn. The amount of fuel determines how long and fast a forest fire can burn. Many large trees, bushes, pine needles and grass abound in a forest for fuel. Flash fires occur in dried grass, bushes and small branches. They can catch fire quickly and then ignite the much heavier fuels in large trees.

Perhaps every person on Earth has at least once been in a situation when he or she has an urgent task to do, but instead of challenging it head on, he or she postpones working on this task for as long as possible. The phenomenon described here is called procrastination. Unlike many people got used to believing, procrastination is not laziness, but rather a psychological mechanism to slow you down and give you enough time to sort out your priorities, gather information before making an important decision, or finding proper words to recover relationship with another person. Thus, instead of blaming yourself for procrastinating, you might want to embrace it—at least sometimes.

- ① Stop delaying work and increase your efficiency.
- ② Procrastination is not a bad thing you have to worry about.
- ③ Challenge can help you fix a relationship with another person.
- ④ Categorize your priorities before making an important decision.

Judge Nicholas in Brooklyn supplied much-needed shock treatment by preventing New York City from hiring firefighters based on a test that discriminated against black and Hispanic applicants. At the time, only 2.9 percent of firefighters were black, even though the city itself was 27 percent black. One of the biggest obstacles to fairness has been a poorly designed screening test measuring abstract reasoning skills that have little to do with job performance. So it is time to design and develop a new test that truthfully reflects skills and personality characteristics that are important to the firefighter's job. It would be fairer if it is more closely tied to the business of firefighting and ensures all the candidates who are eligible to be hired can serve as firefighters, no matter whether they are blacks or not.
