

have more meat than fruits.
 take more food than I can possibly eat.
 have food with fewer calories.
 take bites of every different kind of food.

7.

There are many organizations which purpose is to help endangered animals.

8.

가 ?

A : Can you _____ with this desk? I want to move it.

B : Sure. Where are you going to put it?

put up

give a ring

give a ride

give me a hand

9.

I wish I have studied harder while I was young. In other words, I regret not having studied harder.

10.

가 ?

You can take your time doing the work.

You have to hurry up with the work.

The current situation began to tell on her.

The current situation began didn't have any significant effect on her.

In this small village he passes for a learned man.

In this small village he enjoys special privilege.

This contract holds good for two years.

This contract remains valid for two years.

11.

?

When we're little, our mother is the center of our attention, and we are center of hers. So our mother's characteristics leave an indelible impression, and we are forever after attracted to people with her facial features, body type, personality, even sense of humor. If our mother was warm and giving, as adults we tend to be attracted to people who are warm and giving. If our mother was strong and even tempered, we are going to be attracted to a fair minded strength our mates.

가

가

12.

가

?

Hospices are a special type of healthcare institution. Hospices treat patients suffering from incurable diseases who are not expected to live for more than a year. Hospitals, however, aim to help patients recover from disease, and nursing homes provide long term care for the handicapped and elderly. Also, the hospice's purpose is to help the dying and their families. In contrast, hospitals and nursing homes have limited resources for helping patient's families.

Hospices can help patient's families.

Patients may have curable or incurable diseases.

For long time care, nursing homes are better than hospices and hospital.

Hospices differ from hospitals and nursing homes in a few ways.

13.

A growing body of research by automakers is finding that buyers of these two kinds of vehicles are very different psychologically. Sport utility vehicle buyers tend to be more restless, more extravagant, less social people who are "self oriented", to use the automakers' words, and who have strong conscious or subconscious fears of crime. On the contrary, minivan buyers tend to be more self confident and more "other oriented" more involved with family, friends and their communities.

Who shows the strong tendency of being afraid of crime?

Automaker

Sport utility vehicle buyer

Minivan buyer

Criminal

14.

Consumer advocates call for additional testing of crops and mandatory labeling of genetically engineered products. Administration officials say that it is unnecessary, and the food industry has argued that it would unfairly stigmatize biotech food.

Who take the strictest stand to the genetically engineered products in the passage?

Consumer advocates

Engineers

Administration officials

People in the food industry

15.

가

?

All I want is fair treatment and equal rights. I feel I have a right to smoke while I work. Right now most companies are concerned only with the rights of nonsmokers and make no provisions at all for employees who smoke. Of course, I know that smoking is bad for my health but, after all, that is my problem. My smoking does not hurt anybody else but me. So, why don't they stop discriminating against smokers and just leave us alone?

16.

가

?

City parks were originally created to provide the local populace with a convenient refuge from the crowding and chaos of its surroundings. Until quite recently, these parks served their purpose admirably. Whether city dwellers wanted to sit under a shady tree to think or take a vigorous stroll to get some exercise, they looked forward to visiting these nearby oases. Filled with trees, shrubs, flowers, meadows, and ponds, city parks were a tranquil spot in which to unwind from the daily pressures of urban life. They were places where people met their friends for picnics or sporting events, and they were also places to get some sun and fresh air in the midst of an often dark and dreary environment, with its seemingly endless rows of steel, glass, and concrete buildings.

Parks were built in order to preserve plant life cities.

Parks were designed with the needs of city residents in mind.

Parks were supposed to help people make new friends.

Parks were intended to allow natural light to filter into cities.

17.

?

The doctor's receptionist was startled when a nun stormed out of the examining room and left without paying. When the doctor appeared she asked what had happened. "Well," said the doctor, "I examined her and told her she was pregnant." "Doctor!" exclaimed the receptionist. "That can't be!" "Of course not," he replied, "but it sure cured her hiccups."

tragic

humorous

satiric

surprising

18.

가

.

A society lacking language would be incapable of engaging in any but the simplest of cooperative enterprises. An individual or group of individuals would have no way of planning such activities, of explaining them to others, or of directing the actions of the participants in cooperative enterprises toward the ____ goal. Each individual would be to a large extent dependent on his own strength and ability since he would lack the means of securing the help of others.

individual

special

common intensive

19.

가

.

During World War , it sometimes did prove to be unlucky to be the third person lighting a cigarette on a match. If a group of soldiers in a foxhole kept a match lit for too long, could see the light and have time to aim accurately and fire. A good number of soldiers died because they couldn't resist having that one match.

sniffer

snicker

sniper

skimmer

20. 가 ?

Coffee was introduced much later to countries beyond Arabia whose inhabitant believed it to be a delicacy and guarded its secret as if they were top secret military plans. Transportation of the plant out of the Moslem nations was _____ by the government. The actual spread of coffee was started illegally. One Arab named Baba Budan smuggled beans to some mountains near Mysore, India and started a farm there. Early in this century the descendants of those original plant were found still growing fruitfully in the region.

disappointed

allowed

forbidden

judged

[] =====

- | | | | | | | | | | |
|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| 1. | 2. | 3. | 4. | 5. | 6. | 7. | 8. | 9. | 10. |
| 11. | 12. | 13. | 14. | 15. | 16. | 17. | 18. | 19. | 20. |