9. 다음 중 지문의 내용으로부터 유추할 수 없는 것은?

When I drove in the south of France last year, a young man waved to me. I stopped and he asked me for a lift. As soon as he got into the car, I said good morning to him in French and he replied in the same language. Apart from a few words, I do not know any French at all. Neither of us spoke during the journey. I had nearly reached the town, when the young man suddenly said, very slowly, " Do you speak English?" As I soon learned, he was English himself!

10. 다음 글에서 필자가 주장하는 바를 가장 잘 나타내는 표현은?

You can have the best coach in the world, someone who knows the game inside out and is an excellent teacher. But he or she can only help to a certain point. After that, it's up to you to produce the mental side and to carry out what the coach has said. My coach taught me how to play the game, but it was I that taught myself to win. Embracing the belief that those who work according to their own will do best helped make me a winner.

- ① Make hay while the sun shines.
② Too many cooks spoil the broth.

We know poorer people play the lottery more, but it does not mean that they are stupid or should not be trusted to do so. The lottery is_____which brings color into people's lives. It is patronizing to assume that players are stupid and expecting to win; they know full well that they are only "buying a chance", and are happy with that. Every week some individuals actual win millions of pounds. We must let people make up their own minds about how they use their own money. It is not the role of the state to manage their personal finance. This is a classic issue of liberty -should we disallow an activity enjoyable to many (e.g. alcohol, football, handguns) simply because a small minority will abuse it or prove unable to cope? We should rather trust the individual right to choose over a paternalist government which takes decisions for us.

- ① redistribution of wealth
② necessary evil
③ dangerous policy
④ harmless fun

13. 빈칸 (A)와 (B)에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것끼리 짝지은 것은?

Healthy plant and animal populations in the wild maintain genetic diversity. This diversity can make a population more resistant to disease and environmental changes. Large populations of cloned plants or animals, (A), may lack genetic diversity. Farmers around the world already grow many cultivated crops, including corn and rice, that have less genetic variability than their counterparts that grow in the wild. A single virus could wipe out these crops. (B), if every cow in a herd came from a single clone, one disease could potentially stamp out the entire herd.

- (A) (B)
① for example However
② on the other hand Similarly
③ on the other hand Unfortunately
④ for example Similarly

14. 다음 글이 주는 분위기로 가장 적절한 것은?

It was a cold winter night when I visited the old lady's house : the only house on the hilltop. The house was very quiet without any lamps on. The wind was blowing hard and not a person could be seen around the house. The moon shone at the back door of the old lady's house. Its brightness made clear the pale drifting smoke from the village down in the valley. No one was staying with the sick old woman. All the other family members had gone - her daughter and all her grandchildren had gone out to enjoy movies and dancing.

- ① peaceful      ② festive      ③ lonely      ④ delightful

15. 다음 글의 빈칸에 들어갈 말을 순서대로 나열한 것은?

Newspapers had been carrying reports on the famine in Ethiopia for months. Although stories described how people were starving, there was little response from the public. All that changed in October, 1984 when NBC - TV showed a five-minute report on the famine. As soon as the pictures of the starving children were shown, the network switchboard lit up. This was the beginning of a huge worldwide effort to send aid to Ethiopia. Similarly, the television coverage of the Vietnam War contributed to the growing anti-war movement. In moving people to action, (A) can be more powerful than (B).

16. 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

A woman of forty-three died in a hospital in Canada, in 1984, for no evident reason, soon after a minor operation which had gone perfectly well. It turned out that at the age of five she had been told by a fortune-teller that she would die when she was forty-three. Her birthday had been one week before the operation and she had told her sister and one of the nurses that she did not expect to survive it. The surgeons cautiously suggested that emotional tensions caused by her expectation that the prophecy would come true may have helped to cause her death.

- ① The influence of Mind Working
 ② A Minor Operation and Survival
 ③ A Fortune-teller and His Prophecy
 ④ Diverse Causes of Death

Is life better ind cities? Probably not. There is little space for each person, and this overcrowding causes problems -sickness, traffic, and crime. There isn't enough water, transportation, or housing. And there aren't enough jobs. One-third to one half of the people who are now living in many cities in developing countries cannot find work or can find onl part-time jobs. Millions of these people are hungry, homeless, sick, and afraid of the future. The crisis is worsening daily : that is, this time of terrible difficulty is just beginning. Population in cities in developing nations will increase to four times its present size.

※ 다음을 읽고 물음에 답하시오. [19-20]

The main skill is to keep from getting lost. Since the roads are used only by local people who know them by sight, nobody complains if the junctions aren't posted. And often they aren't. When they are, it's usually a small sign hiding unobtrusively in the weeds and that's all. Country-road-sign makers seldom tell you twice. If you miss that sign in the weeds, that's your problem, not theirs. (A), you discover that the highway maps are often inaccurate about country roads. And from time to time you find your "country road" takes you onto a two-rutter and then a single rutter and then into a pasture and stops. Or else it takes you into a farmer's backyard.
