110. 다음 글에 관한 설명으로 옳은 것은?

Training is clearly a process by which the pupil is taught to perform an act by imitating the manipulations of the teacher, doing it over and over until the act approaches perfection. Education, on the other hand, should acquaint the student with the ways of analyzing problems of all sorts and descriptions, so that his mind is keen to understand basic meanings and implications, and when he is faced one day by a problem he has never solved, or even seen before, he will be able to analyze the problem into its elements and proceed toward its solution. Education may use training extensively. You should not fall into believing you are well educated in a field when you are merely well trained.

- ① Education is to become only a part of training.
- ② Education is to learn how to memorize problems, rather than to analyze them.
- ③ Education is to become acquainted with performing an act by imitation.
- ④ Education is to be keen to understand basic meanings and implications.
- ⑤ Education is to perform an act over and over until the act approaches perfection.

111. 다음 글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것은?

There are three basic reasons why it is very difficult just to sit back and listen. First, we are often so busy with our own thoughts and desires that we are 90 percent sender and only 10 percent receiver. Second, some individuals are very self-centered. Instead of hearing what is being said, they are merely waiting for the speaker to finish early so that they can then talk. Third, some people allow themselves to analyze motives or personality traits of the person speaking and, again, fail to hear what is said.

- ① We should speak to others politely.
- ② We should analyze the way others speak.
- ③ We should express our thoughts and desires.
- ④ We should try to listen to what others say.
- ⑤ We should get our thoughts organized.

The study of nutrition – the science of food – helps us to understand the relationship between diet and health. When you eat more calories than you need, you gain weight. If you eat a bowl of ice cream or a piece of cake from time to time, the sugar and fat won't hurt your body. However, two bowls of ice cream with lunch and three pieces of cake before you go to bed is too much sugar and fat in one day. If you drink eight glasses of water every day, it's good for you, but it's not good to drink eight cups of coffee or eight cans of soda every day.

- ① Effect of Diet on Health
- ② Study on Animal's Body
- ③ Good and Bad Sides of Food
- ④ Nutritionist and Dietician
- ⑤ Study on Science
